

Proving your identity

As a bank we have a legal obligation to fight financial crime and protect our customers from fraud. This is why we verify the identity of anyone who wants to open an account or obtain a financial service from us. Identity checks are an important part in the fight against terrorism, money laundering and other criminal activities.

We will also check that you have not been refused permission to remain in the UK. If you do not have this permission, or if we are unable to verify your identity you will not be able to open a new current account or add your name to an existing account.

Proof of your ID

When you open an account, are added onto an account or major changes are being made to the account, we will verify your identity.

To help us speed up this process we use an electronic identification process which can confirm your identity. If we are unable to prove your identity using this system we will require you to provide us with two documents as follows:

ONE document from List One and
ONE document from List Three or

TWO documents from List Two and
ONE document from List Three

All documents must be the most recent ones (we will not accept expired documents), and must show your full name and current address or date of birth. We will not accept bills or statements printed from an online account. Documents for proof of residential address must be within the last 3-6 months. We ask for this as our relationship with you is non face-to-face.

What is Money Laundering?

‘Money laundering’ means the methods criminals use to hide and disguise the money they make from their crimes. The term ‘laundering’ is used because criminals need to turn their ‘dirty’ criminal money into ‘clean’ funds that they can use without causing suspicion. Getting it into the financial system means that it becomes harder to trace and confiscate. Drug traffickers, armed robbers, terrorists, burglars, tax evaders and people who defraud members of the public all need to launder the money they make from their crimes.
